vinetur

Organizers will unveil Slow Wine Fair 2027 in Milan on Dec. 1

The fair is scheduled for Feb. 21 through Feb. 23 at BolognaFiere, with speaker names expected later

Thursday, November 19, 2026

BolognaFiere and Slow Food said they will present Slow Wine Fair 2027 at a press conference on December 1 in Milan ahead of the trade show’s return to Bologna in February.

The press event is scheduled for 11 a.m. at Signorvino, Viale Pasubio 2, in Milan. Organizers said a separate notice with the names of the speakers is expected later.

Slow Wine Fair 2027 is set to run from February 21 to February 23, 2027, at BolognaFiere. The event is organized by BolognaFiere in collaboration with Slow Food.

According to the organizers, the fair is being held with the support of ICE, the Italian agency that promotes foreign trade and the internationalization of Italian companies. The event also has the patronage of Italy’s Ministry of Agriculture, Food Sovereignty and Forestry, the City of Bologna, and the Bologna Chamber of Commerce, Industry, Handicraft and Agriculture.

Organizers listed Reale Mutua, Winterhalter and Guala Closures as the main partners for the 2027 edition.

The December 1 press conference is expected to provide the first formal details of the 2027 fair, which is one of the wine events promoted by Slow Food and BolognaFiere. The organizers have not yet released the program for the Milan presentation, beyond confirming the time and venue.

The announcement was issued by the Slow Wine Fair press office, which said accreditation requests can be sent to the press contacts for Slow Food and BolognaFiere. More information on the event is available through the fair’s official website, slowinefair.com.